A residential area from the 1950ies in an excellent position to the seaside and the inner city of Haifa is threatened to its entire substitute by a new residential settlement. – Is it possible under the condition preserving the building stock to create qualities on equal quality like a redesign? Could we succeed in the synthesis of old and new by urban design and by architecture in generating a benefit of urbanity for the whole of Haifa?

In a common student workshop in Haifa we have drafted these theses within our analyses of the site. The first concepts were debated with Ariel Waterman (City Engineer of Haifa). The resultant projects of both universities are now presented by all of us to the public.

Organization: Zvika Koren, Dr. Orit Shmueli – Technion, Haifa + Karsten Meyer, Prof. Klaus Schäfer – Hochschule Bremen.
